GOV. PATTERSON'S MACHINE BEATEN BY INDEPENDENTS

Tennessee is Overwhelmingly For Free Judicial Ticket.

Every Section of State Found
on That Side.

MAJORITIES ARE ENORMOUS.

Nashville, Aug. 5.—By a majority variously estimated from 25,000 to 40,000 the independent judiciary ticket won in the Democratic primary over the Patterson machine ticket. The result is believed to spell the overthrow of the Patterson machine and preface his defeat this fall. Senator Frazier supported the independent ticket and Senator Taylor refrained from taking part in the campaign. The whole state repudiated Patterson's ticket. Even where his organization controlled the election machinery the majority was far below what he expected and in East Tennessee, where the Democratic machine is impotent the independent majority was overwhelming.

The Patterson Democrats have been fearing that the independents would not cross the mountains with more than 12,000 majority, but it went much higher.

In Davidson county Hart, for criminal judge, Anderson for attorney-general and Horton for sheriff, all strong Patterson men, appear to be elected by from 1,500 to 2,000 majority. The state judicial ticket will fall behind.

The big Middle Tennessee Democratic counties are not coming up for the regulars, as expected. Even in Davidson the independent judicial ticket is leading in the 17 precincts heard from in 17 precincts out of 37 Hart, for criminal judge, has 600, McCann 550.

Following are the successful independent candidates:

Judges of the Supreme Court.

Eastern Division—John K. Shields.

Middle Division—D. L. Landon.

Matt M. Nell.

State-at-large—W. D. Heard.

Grafton Green.

Judges of the Court of Civil Appeals.

Eastern Division—H. Y. Hughes.

Middle Division—Joseph C. Higgins.

State-at-large—Frank P. Call.

John M. Taylor.

Postoffice Promotions.

Washington, Aug. 5.—The following promotions of clerks in Kentucky postoffices were authorized today:

Georgetown, $300 to $1,000, two.

Henderson, $300 to $1,000, one; $1,000 to $1,100, one; Lebanon, $300 to $1,000, one; Lexington, $300 to $1,000, one; $1,000 to $1,100, three; Madisonville, $300 to $1,000, one; Mayfield, $300 to $1,000, two; Mt. Sterling, $300 to $1,000, one; Owensboro, $300 to $1,000, two; $1,000 to $1,100, one; $1,100 to $1,200, one; Paris, $1,000 to $1,100, one; Richmond, $300 to $1,000, one.

FAKE DOCTOR CONVICTED.

Is Not an M. D., but Represented Himself So.

New York, Aug. 5.—Harry Fischer of 123 West One Hundred and Seventeenth street, who said he was a graduate of Tufts college, was convicted in special sessions yesterday for violating the medical law. Representing himself as a physician with a commission from the board of health, Fischer rummaged flats on the east side under the pretense of inspecting sanitation. He also made medical examinations of women and children and tried to collect money.

One woman he visited was a patient of Dr. Louis W. Grossman, of 1688 Lexington avenue. When the doctor found him in her apartment, Fischer introduced himself as "Dr. Plato," an assistant to Professor Jacob. A few days later Dr. Grossman met him in a drug store, and this time Fischer had another name. Dr. Grossman then had him arrested. Fischer was remanded for investigation.

Night Riders Prevent Threshing of Milton Oliver's Wheat
---Equity Wool Pool May be Sold.

Warning Not to Thresh.

Eddyville, Ky., Aug. 5.—A notice was tacked on the threshing of Judge Mitchell while in the lamascos country notifying him not to thresh the wheat of Milton Oliver, which had been hauled to it, while on the farm of a neighbor. The owner of the machine was intending to do the work, but the crew, who are all employed by him, refused to do the work, fearing that some one had placed explosives in the bundles of wheat.

After the threshing left the soldiers stationed there removed the notices posted and put up others, offering protection to the man who would do the work for Mr. Oliver, and it is said that the next crop of wheat threshed in the neighborhood would be Oliver's. This looks like things are getting to a fine point. The soldiers located there have been strengthened by the arrival of 13 more, we presume, on account of these notices.

Judge Mitchell has offered the loan of an old separator if the soldiers are willing to do the work, but his men are afraid to handle the wheat, and he refuses to take chances with his new machine.

Inspecting Wool Hides.

Louisville, Aug. 5. (Special).—The executive committee of the Equity wool pool department is examining bids for about 100,000 pounds of pooled wool.

Boy Kicked in Head.

Kicked on the forehead by a horse, William Anderson, the 2-year-old son of C. P. Anderson, had a narrow escape from serious injury this morning. A gash three inches long was cut and it required a number of stitches to close it. By the force of the blow the youngster was dazed, but this afternoon was able to be out. He resides at 1722 Madison street.

PRISONER GETS DRUNK

ON THE ROAD TO JAIL

Eliza Sweeney, who never had gone to jail before, broke no precedent today when she was sentenced in police court to 30 days in jail for breach of peace, and ordered to report to the county jailer. She had pleaded guilty and was sober when she left the court room; but she got drunk on the way to jail and was in a terrible temper by the time she arrived. She was locked in a cell to cool off.

Chinese Lover Goes

to Find Yellow Bride

"Melican gal no marry me, me goe China."

They were the parting words of Pong Wong Teey, late of Paducah's Chinese laundry, 125 South Third street, who left yesterday for Hong Kong to seek a Celestial bride and share his portion of wealth from his father's estate.

Teey, who has been ironing shirts here for the last year with the rest of the colony, can hardly speak English, but he managed to tell an American friend of his intentions. The Chinaman had become attached to his white friend and shared the secret with him in preference to those of his own nationality. The American friend thought it funny and when it leaked out Pong Wong Teey was the target for a volley of questions fired at him by a reporter.

The "Lovin' Chink" was seated at the counter in the laundry, dressed in American clothes of Chinese fit and pondering over upside-down hieroglyphics splattered over a book made from brown wrapping paper. When he was approached he became excited and yelled repeatedly: "Whatee dis?" His tones brought the rest of the yellow flock from over their irons and out of their wash tubs and without another question the reporter fled from the den of chattering pig tails to save himself.

Bracing himself he returned to the laundry with extreme caution and talked more meekly than at first. Then Teey was made to understand and he shook his head and grinned. "No, no, no, me no marry; not for tree months."

But anyway Teey left yesterday and is on his way to Hong Kong via New Orleans. His father is said to be wealthy and is said to live on Jervins street, Hong Kong. One of Teey's Celestial friends said his father lived in Portland, Ore., and not Hong Kong.

Before Teey left he told his American friend Chinamen come and go every day in Chicago and the papers do not say anything about it. He thought it strange to have his name in the paper and left without understanding why.

BODY CARRIED EIGHTEEN MILES ON A LOG WAGON.

Four months after he was married to Miss Blattle Castleman, Russell Wyatt, 23 years old, of Metropolis, died of congestion on island 25 in the Mississippi river. His body was carried eighteen miles on a log wagon, and became so decomposed it could not be taken home and was buried at Ripley, Tenn.

ELLA U. FALKHEIMER

DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. N. M. URI DIES IN WEST.

Body Brought Back from Denver to Louisville—Aunts Attend the Funeral There.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Ella Uri Falkheimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Uri, of Louisville. She died at Denver. Her aunts, Mesdames Julius Well, Samuel Levy and H. Wallerstein left today for Louisville to attend the funeral.

MUST MAKE CONNECTIONS IN FIRST SEWER DISTRICT.

Property owners in sewer district, No. 1, who fail to make connections within 60 days from today will be prosecuted. This was the agreement between Mayor James P. Smith and City Health Officer S. Z. Holladay today. In some cases property owners are unable to make the improvements, while in other cases, according to the health officer, owners have let contracts to plumbers with instructions to hold back as long as possible. Plumbers will be notified that they will be held liable for all improvements not made where they have received contracts. Dr. Holladay also calls the attention of property owners to weed cutting. He warns them to see that their lots are clear of weeds before paying for the work. It will be necessary to have the weeds cut and removed from the lots.

HEAR OF CAPTAIN'S WEDDING.

Marriage of Robert Byars and Miss Brooks a Three Days Secret.

New York, Aug. 5.—Friends of Capt. Robert Byars, of Elmhurst, L. I., were surprised yesterday when they learned that he was married on Thursday, July 21, to Miss Mabel Brooks, of 3311 Broadway.

Captain Byars was for several years prominent in the Seventy-first regiment. Members of the two families alone knew of the marriage, and it was agreed to keep it a secret until Capt. and Mrs. Byars departed for a two months' trip in the west.

Funeral of Maggie Cherry.

The funeral of Maggie Cherry, who died Sunday morning at Riverside hospital, will be held at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery.

ECHO OF THEFT FROM COUNTY.

Another echo of the embezzlement of county funds by Hiram Smedley, former county clerk, was heard today when Lee D. Potter, former sheriff, filed suit in the name of the commonwealth of Kentucky against Hiram Smedley and his surety, the Title Guaranty & Surety company, for $408 alleged due on fees collected by Smedley and converted to his own use. The suit was filed by Attorney William M. Hushands, who was made exhaustive examinations into the county records, and first discovered the shortage of Smedley.

Mr. Potter served a sheriff of McCracken county from 1901 until 1905, but after his term of office had expired it is alleged that Smedley collected fees due him. The delinquent tax list was sold every year to the state, and when property was redeemed it was necessary for the owners to pay the taxes and cost to the county clerk. The sheriff allowed his fee and an advertising charge, amounting to about $2 on each piece of property advertised. When property was redeemed it is alleged that Smedley collected the fee for the sheriff but failed to turn it over to Mr. Potter.

The total amount due is said to be $408, but in addition to that sum the 20 per cent penalty is sued for.

Fridge Will Select Team.

Vicksburg, Miss., Aug. 5.—Adj. Gen. Fridge will tomorrow select the rifle team which is to represent Mississippi at the national contest to be held at Camp Perry this year. There are about thirty candidates for the team at the target range near here, where they have been practicing for the past two weeks. The team will leave tomorrow night for Camp Perry.

Jamaica, L. I., Aug. 5.—Five men and two women were burned to death, two mortally injured and a score seriously hurt in a fire in a hotel here early this morning. Most of the dead were Polish and Russian immigrants. All of the dead slept in the attic.

CHURCH SERVICES

ONLY CAN BE HELD

SPANISH GOVERNOR TAKES NO CHANCE WITH CLERICAL UPRISING.

San Sebastian, Aug. 5.—The governor today issued a proclamation against any but regular Catholics gathering on Sunday and permitting any outsiders from entering the city. These precautions were taken as the result of a report from the Ciscayan provinces that village priests were arming followers, and urging them to march in a concerted move against San Sebastian.

One Legged Aeronaut.

"Peg" Andrews, of Kansas City, a daring aeronaut, will make balloon ascensions at Wallace park Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 4 o'clock. Andrews has only one leg but that does not interfere with his trips to the clouds, and he is ranked as one of the best in the business. While making an ascension several years ago from a dizzy height something was wrong with the parachute and Andrews fell a long distance to the ground. One leg was shattered, but he has grit and is still performing the dare devil feat. It has been a long time since a similar attraction has been in Paducah, and it is expected to draw large crowds.

Teachers' Institute at Mayfield.

Mayfield, Ky., Aug. 5.—The Teachers' institute is in session this week. The instructor is Professor Moore of Hopkinsville. Professor I. O. Smothers was elected president and Clar Keys secretary.

LOUIS SCHRIER DIES.

Los Angeles, Aug. 5.—Louis Schriber, in his day known as one of the world's greatest cornettists, died here yesterday, 83 years of age. He accompanied both Adeline Patti and Ole Bull, the violinist, on concert tours as cornet soloist. He was a charter member of the Philharmonic Society of New York, and in 1872 and 1873 was soloist with the Thomas orchestra.

REPRIVE FOR WYNNE.

Presidential Clemency Extended the Slayer of Naval Officer.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Through a presidential reprieve announced today, John Wynne, an old employee on the United States Roarains at Honolulu, Hawaii, who was sentenced to be hanged on September 5, will not expiate the crime of which he was convicted until ninety days after the date fixed for the execution.

Wynne killed Third Assistant Engineer McKinnon, whom he had imagined was trying to make him lose his position. The reprieve was granted on the ground that the attorney-general could not consider this case as required by law before the date fixed for the execution.

GRAND JURY ADJOURNS WITH OUT FURTHER BRIBE PROSECUTIONS.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 5.—The grand jury adjourned today without returning any additional indictments in the graft cases.

Leaves for Oxford.

Jackson, Tenn., Aug. 5.—Prof. E. S. Balthrop, who has occupied the chair of mathematics in Union university the past year, will in a few days move his family to Oxford, Miss., where he will take charge of the public schools, having been elected superintendent of the schools of that place several weeks ago. Professor Balthrop is a graduate of the University of Mississippi.

Quiet at the Court House.

All the county officers report dull times this month, but Col. Gus G. Singleton, the genial county clerk, broke the record yesterday when he failed to take in a single cent of revenue. All day long not a marriage license was issued, and no deeds or mortgages were filed for record. Although he admits that the office is not profitable at that rate, Colonel Singleton says he will retain the office a while longer.

Oklahoma Senator Talks to Congress Committee

ABOUT INDIAN LAND SCHEME.

Denver, Aug. 5.—United States Senator Charles J. Hughes, Jr., who opposed in the senate the appointment of a committee to investigate Senator Gore's charges, declared that he had never before attached any importance to the charges, and had not heard Sherman's name mentioned in connection with them. On account of Gore's blindness, he read the Senator's letters, in connection with Gore's bill designed to prevent fraud, and he said Gore told him that persons interested in the bill offered him at first $25,000 and later $50,000 if he could endorse a favorable report to the senate.

Hammon Denies It.

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 5.—"When Gore said I told him it would be worth $25,000 to him to join in opposition to the McMurray contract, he lied." With these words Jacob L. Hammon dismissed the charges brought against him by Senator Gore yesterday. He was called to the stand. Hammon said there is absolutely no foundation for Gore's story. I did not on May 5 or at any other time suggest to Gore that he could get $25,000 or any other sum from me on the McMurray contract. I have known McMurray five or six years and have known Gore nine years as we live in the same town. Our relations have always been pleasant. I have loaned him money on several occasions and signed notes for him. I was in Washington several times, during the last session of congress. On one visit I represented Governor Haskell in the town lot cases, and while stopping at a hotel divided hotel expenses with Bird McGuire. I called on Gore every day or two.

"You call on Gore May 6," Chairman Burke asked.

"Yes," replied Hammon. "I think I did. I arrived in Washington on the fifth, and Gore was the first person who called on me about the contract, saying that he had made a mistake in getting into the McMurray fight. I never was interested in the McMurray contract to the extent of a dime."

Testimony of Senator Gore.

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 5.—Vice President Sherman was named by Senator T. P. Gore in connection with what are known as the McMurray Indian land contracts, an investigation of which was begun here by a special committee of the house of representatives. Senator Gore, after declaring that he had been approached by a bribe of $25,000 to remove all congressional opposition to the contracts, asserted that Hammon had said a man "higher up" in the government was "interested" in the contract. Senator Gore at first said he was reluctant to name the man mentioned as "higher up," but later, on being pressed by Congressman Burke, chairman of the committee, declared Hammon had used the name of Vice President Sherman.

Hiten By Snake.

Jackson, Tenn., Aug. 5.—W. C. Black, a farmer living near Maleus, this county, was bitten by a large highland moccasin, and his condition became very serious before he secured medical relief. Mr. Black had gone out to his barn to feed his stock before daybreak, and as he was in the act of placing food in the troughs the snake sprang up and bit him on the right hand. Dr. J. T. Haines dressed the wound.

THE RATIONAL TREATMENT FOR ECZEMA.

The day of the use of ointments and greasy lotions in the treatment of eczema and other skin and scalp diseases is done. Time has proved them not only practically useless in effecting permanent cures, but also unclean and in reality, breeding places for disease germs. The W. J. Gilbert drug store is pleased to announce itself agent for ZEMO—the modern, clean, simple and infallible treatment for eczema, pimples, black heads, dandruff and all itching diseases of the skin and scalp.

So confident are we of its efficacy that we say to you—use ZEMO according to directions—then if not satisfactory, come and get your money back.

MRS. ASTOR RETURNS.

Divorced Wife of Col. J. J. Astor Arrives on Oceanic.

New York, Aug. 4.—Mrs. Alva Willing Astor, who several months ago obtained a divorce from Col. John Jacob Astor, came back to New York from London on the Oceanic today listed among the passengers as Mrs. John Astor. She was met at the pier by Mr. Dobbin, secretary for her divorced husband, and her son, Vincent. These circumstances revived the rumors that she might marry her former husband. She refused to answer any questions.

Vincennes at Clarksville.
McLeansboro at Hopkinsville.

Robbed of a victory in the first game by bad umpiring, those scrappy Indians managed to force one man over the pan just in the nick of time and win the second game.

The first game was won by Vincennes by a score of 5 to 2, but the victory was protested on account of the raw decisions against Paducah. The first game went ten innings, but the second was called in the fifth after Paducah had scored one run, and the victory, in order that both teams might catch trains.

Because of the bad decisions of Umpire Lucas it looked serious for a few minutes. At the end of the first game after Vincennes had scored three runs, the spectators crowded out on the field, and but for the lack of a leader Umpire Lucas might have needed the attention of physicians. The fans were furious and bitter was the denunciation heaped upon "his umps." After a long argument Umpire Lucas agreed not to officiate in the second game and jeers greeted him as he drifted to the clubhouse. It was by far the most sensational time at League park this season.

In the first place, one of the largest week day crowds of the season saw the games. In the first game the Indians got a lead of two runs. The crowd was in splendid humor until the eighth when Umpire Lucas made a questionable decision. It was disputed so strenuously by Anderson, the brilliant little short stop, that Umpire Lucas just put him out of the game and finally off the field. With the score tied—2 to 2—at the end of the ninth, the game went into extra innings. In the tenth two errors by Taylor and two much abused decisions of Umpire Lucas, the Allices forced over three runs and tacked away the victory with a protest by Paducah.

In the second game neither team scored until the fifth. With nobody out and the bases full the squeeze play resulted in one score, and the victory for the warriors.

The First Game.

The first game started exactly to the taste of the fans. "Rube" Floyd was on the slab for the Indians, and although hit hard the loss of the game was not due to Floyd's work. Angermeyer was first up and went out Jantzen to Nairn. Varnadore drove out a safe hit to left, while Anderson responded by singling to right. Both runners scored when Johnson made a wild throw. Taylor walked but the scoring as far as the Indians were concerned was over. After the first inning Morris Johnson twirled good ball and the tribe did not hit freely.

Vincennes gave no trouble until the eighth inning. Then the score was tied. Dehaven was first up and singled to right field. Flanagan hit to Engel and was out at first. Dehaven did not stop at second but started to third. Taylor snapped the ball to Anderson, who apparently tagged the runner. Umpire Lucas called him safe and the first bowl was let out. Anderson disputed the decision and was ousted from the game. A minute later Jantzen singled to left and Dehaven scored. Jones hit a single to center and Jantzen crossed the home pan with the second score for the Allices. Nairn forced out Jones. Varnadore to Anderson. R. Johnson singled to right, but Gosnell ended the prospects for more scores by going out Engel to Taylor.

Both teams went down in order in the ninth, but the tragic story is related in the tenth.

Flanagan was safe at first when Taylor attempted a fancy one-hand catch from Floyd and nudged the ball. Jantzen pulled off a neat sacrifice going out Engel to Taylor. Jones knocked a high one to Taylor who muffed it. It looked like the ball was foul and not inside the foul line, but Mr. Lucas said it was good, and how No. 2 was heard. Manager Nairn drove one out to left field for two bases and Flanagan scored. R. Johnson singled to left and Jones crossed the rubber with the second run. Gosnell hit a hard line drive but Vandore made a pretty running catch. R. Johnson stole second, but Payne received the throw from Overton and apparently had the runner out by several feet. Umpire Lucas could not see it that way and called him safe, while Mother Nairn crossed the home pan on the play with the third score. The fans were indignant, and the knocking was renewed with increased vigor. M. Johnson went out Payne to Taylor, but the victory was already won. In the tenth the Indians went down in order, and the game was lost.

The Summary Is:

Second Game.

It was after 4 o'clock when the second game started. Pat Runyan, who has twirled ball on the vacant lots around Paducah with fast amateur teams for several years, was in the box for the Indians. He pitched good ball and was touched up for only three hits in the five innings. L.

Johnson worked for Vincennes and permitted only two hits.

Neither team threatened to score until the fifth. It looked dangerous in the fifth. Nairn was first up and landed on one of Pat's pets for a drive nearly to the score board. R. Johnson hit to Anderson and forced out Nairn at second. Gosnell rapped one out to left. L. Johnson hit to Runyan and was out at first. Flah struck out and the chances of a double victory for the visitors ended.

The Indians made short work of the fifth. It was agreed that only five innings should be played, and it was necessary to do something. Cox, who replaced Taylor at first, got a hit out to right field. Block was hit. Engel flew out to L. Johnson. Overton was next up and he was hit on the hand, filling the bases. Lockhart tapped one to the infield and Cox rapped home with the only and winning run.

Umpire Lucas was replaced by two players, Gwin for Paducah, and M. Johnson for Vincennes, umpired the game and gave satisfaction to the fans.

Harris Got His.

McLeansboro, Ill., Aug. 5.—McLeansboro batters found Harris' underhand shoots exactly to their liking, and batted him unmercifully yesterday, winning by a score of 5 to 3.

Higginsbotham, the ex-National leaguer, was hit freely, but they were not bunched.

Clarksville 3 8 5

Hoppers Got Another.
Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 5.—Hopkinsville won the game yesterday afternoon from Harrisburg by a score of 8 to 5. The game was not brilliant and was ragged with errors. Von proved steadier than Hastings and won out.

Baseball Chaff.
Big Zeke Taylor was handed his release yesterday afternoon after the first game. He has failed to field well, while his hitting has not been as dangerous as expected. Taylor has failed to keep in the proper playing condition, it is said.

Manager Nairn, of the Allices, admitted that Umpire Lucas was off in his decisions. Twice on first base Nairn was pulled off first base to receive throws, but in each instance the Paducah runners were called out. The Paducah management announced that Lucas will never umpire another game on the reservation, and President Gosnell was wired that Paducah would withdraw from the league before Lucas had another opportunity to rob the Indians of a victory. On his first visit to Paducah players and fans flock to his rescue and got him out of trouble. President Gosnell discharged him, but the Paducah management had him reinstated. He showed his appreciation of good treatment by failing to give Paducah even a fair chance to win.

Pitcher Guy Woodring is on the bench for 30 days in addition to a fine of $10 hanging over his head. Woodring was not in uniform yesterday, and refused to officiate as umpire when requested. The failure of any player to report in uniform will result in a fine.

Ben Engel played a fair game at third base yesterday and was signed. It is expected that he will show better form, as it is difficult to judge the worth of a player in one game.

Pitcher Pat Runyan is a regular Indian, as he was signed last night and left with the team. Runyan has good speed, fair control and is a willing worker. With proper coaching he should make good in the box.

Anderson was furious because of the decision of Umpire Lucas in the eightth inning in calling Dehaven safe at third. He protested so strenuously that he was ousted from the game. Payne took his place and put up a neat fielding game.

Although Vincennes has three Johnsons on the team, they are not relatives.

Little Yon, the wee southpaw of Hopkinsville, is proving one of the sensations of the league. At the start he was hooked for his release, but now a bag of gold would not be taken for him by the Hopkinsville management.

Something is wrong with the players of the Clarksville team. With some of the strongest hitters in the league and best pitchers, the team should pull away from the bottom.

Elmer Turner, known as "Froggy," of Columbus, O., has been signed by Harrisburg.

Gwin probably will pitch today's game against Harrisburg. Jesse in line shape and ought to get away with the game. With Engel on third, Payne will be used in the box regularly.

Long Pitching Duel.
Chicago, Aug. 5.—"Big Ed" Walsh, of the White Sox, and Jack Combs, of the Athletics, fought the most spectacular slug duel of the season, going to sixteen innings to a scoreless tie. Combs shut out the locals without a hit in the nine innings and allowed but three safeties during the battle, striking out 15 Sox. Walsh allowed six hits and fanned ten. Three fast double plays in the closing rounds, with Eddie Collins starring, blasted Chicago's chances for going ahead. Darkness stopped the duel.

STATE SOCIETY

HONORS DR. J. T. REDDICK ON THE PROGRAM.

Paducah Physician Will Speak at Annual Meeting at Lexington.

Dr. J. T. Reddick, secretary of the Paducah Medical and Surgical Society, has been honored by his appointment to the program of the annual meeting of the Kentucky State Medical Association to be held in Lexington September 27, 28 and 29.

On the program for the three days' meeting are physicians of national reputation. Dr. Reddick will be the only delegate from Paducah to speak and he will deliver a lecture on "Cancer of the Breast." His paper will be one of a series of four papers on "Cancer" and the other lecturers and their subjects will be: "Tuberculosis," by Dr. W. H. Wathen, of Louisville; "Gastro-Intestinal Tract," by Dr. J. H. Blackburn, of Bowling Green; "Gonorrhea," by Dr. Carl L. Wheeler, of Lexington.

Two eminent physicians are named in the program which calls for some interesting subjects. Dr. C. W. Stiles, of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, will lecture on "The Hookworm." Dr. Stiles is author of the book that the hookworm and his address will be of widespread interest.

The other lecturer of national reputation is Dr. Frank Billings of Chicago who will deliver the annual oration at the opening of the meeting. He is an eminent practitioner and recognized as one of the leading physicians of the United States. Several local physicians may attend the meeting next month.

TWO OPERATORS

NOW IN CHARGE OF THE SIGNAL SYSTEM.

R. D. Barnett and Capt. Henry Bailey on Duty at Central Station.

Regular day and night operators are now in charge of the telephone and switch board at the Central fire station. It is reported that a regular fireman has been in charge of the switch board for several months at night, while the day job was switched around among the firemen. Now Captain Henry Bailey, formerly a member of the police department, has been appointed day operator. The regular operators will be elected by the board of fire and police commissioners and will also have charge of the operating board of the flashlight system of police calls now being installed.

Good Quarter's Showing.
The third quarterly conference was held last night at the Broadway Methodist church by the Rev. W. J. Mowry, the presiding elder of the Paducah district. During the quarter $1,000 was collected, there were 16 additions to the membership, six infants and one adult were baptized. The quarter was successful in every respect.

WATCH POSIAM WORK.

Results Are Seen After a Single Application.

Anyone wishing to test posiam, the new skin remedy, for the rapidity of its action should select a red spot or small part of a surface where the skin is extensively broken out. Posiam should be applied on this place at night and results noted in the morning by comparison with the surrounding skin, which has not been treated. Surprising results are seen, particularly when posiam is used for red and inflamed nose, fever blisters, pimples, rash, scaly scalp, itching feet, sunburn, etc. The immediate action of this new healing agent in eczema, acne, psoriasis, barber's itch, piles, etc., begins with first application when all itching is stopped and continues unrelentingly until its work is done. Cases of these troubles, of years' standing have been completely eradicated by posiam after other remedies were abandoned as ineffectual.

A special 50 cent package of posiam is prepared for minor uses and this, as well as the regular $2 jar, is on sale by all druggists, particularly Gilbert's drug store and R. W. Walker & Co.

A sample of posiam, which will afford a convincing test, will be sent by mail, free of charge, to anyone who will write to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 25th street, New York City.

have received practically no returns and cannot make a statement, but we know enough to say that the independents have not won."

Oblion County.

Enlon City, Tenn., Aug. 5.—The following county officials were elected in Oblion County: Sheriff, T. J. Easterwood; register, Marvin Chapel; county court clerk, Chas. Talley; circuit court clerk, H. M. Golden; judge of Fourteenth circuit, J. E. Jones; attorney-general, D. J. Caldwell.

In Gibson County.

Trenton, Tenn., Aug. 5.—It is impossible to give any definite returns from the judicial election. From the reports of the number of votes polled in the larger district, the indications are that Gibson county will be carried by the independents by from 500 to 550. This is a very much smaller majority than has been counted on by the leaders of this side. The vote has fallen short by at least 40 per cent from what has been anticipated. The negro vote in Gibson has been unusually small; in the strongest negro districts of the county not a single negro has voted. The primary held in this county for the nomination of candidates for the senate and the house of representatives from such areas as has been reserved up to this hour, the indications are that Hon. W. L. McFarland of Humboldt is nominated for senator, with Prof. A. D. Harsell of the Twelfth district and W. R. Couch of the Nineteenth district for the house of representatives.

Nothing of special interest has marked either the regular election or the primary at this place, excepting that the vote has been unusually light, both factions having probably lost about the same percentage of their respective strength.

Weakley County.

Martin, Tenn., Aug. 5.—The election passed off quietly here. There were 117 votes polled in this precinct, the independent candidates getting a majority.

Tipton County.

Covington, Tenn., Aug. 5.—Tipton county was carried by the bolters by 700 majority. It is stated that Joseph Marks, who is running for circuit court clerk of Tipton county on the Republican ticket, threw his support to the independents, voting a large number of negroes in all districts, with one exception.

Hardeman County.

Whitesville, Tenn., Aug. 5.—This town cast the following vote for the judges:

For Supreme Court—Heard 150, Shields 110, Neil 134, Green 119, Lounds 131, Barton 61, Cooke 58, Bell 61, McAllister 69, Malden 44.
For Court of Appeals—Higgins 116, Taylor 138, Wilson 151, Hughes 150, Hall 130, Bryan 50, Bachman 63, Gholson 55, Moore 51, Senter 51.

Lauderdale County.

Ripley, Tenn., Aug. 5.—The following county officials were elected in Lauderdale county: Sheriff, Joseph Crockett; register, H. L. Hanna; county court clerk, L. B. Archer; circuit court clerk, C. W. Scott; county judge, George W. Young; trustee, H. D. Folts; judge of the Sixteenth circuit, S. J. Everett; attorney-general, John A. Tipton; chancellor Ninth division, C. P. McKinney.

The Ohio will continue falling at this point for the next 24 hours.

Today's Arrivals.
Ship of Savannah from St. Louis; Ohio from Cincinnati; George Cowling from Brookport and Metropolis; Dick Fowler from Cairo, John L. Lowry from Evansville; G. W. Robertson from Brookport, Owen's landing and Livingston Point; Kentucky from Brookport.

Today's Departures.
Wabash for Mount City, Ill.; Ohio for Cincinnati; Elektra for Nashville; Jim T. Duffy, Jr., for Cumberland; George Cowling for Brookport and Metropolis; Savannah for Watrino, Ala.; G. W. Robertson for Brookport, Owen's landing and Livingston Point; John L. Lowry for Evansville.

River and Weather.
Gauge at 7 a. m. read 11.4 feet, indicating a fall of eight-tenths of a foot in 24 hours. Weather clear and business good.

Heard on the Wharf.
Loaded to her guards with wheat from Pace's landing, Mo., the Elektra arrived at 7 o'clock last night on her way to Nashville. She stopped over here for the night and was ready this morning and left for Nashville.

Little relief to labor troubles that is menacing river craft is being felt. Boatmen are scarce and all of schedule. Coal companies find it almost an impossibility to secure labor at the present.

The John L. Lowry is the Evansville boat today while tomorrow the John S. Hopkins will be the boat. Both are behind time.

Finally, the Jim Duffy arrived out of the Cumberland river yesterday afternoon with a tow of logs for the Ayer & Lord Lumber company. She received coal and supplies this morning and departed again for the Cumberland.

The towboat Wabash came up from Mount City, Ill., last night for coal and stores. She was compelled to lie here all night until she could be coaled on account of the scarcity of labor. She departed at 7 a. m. for Mount City from where she takes the Markle showboat south.

The Outaway Box took a log raft out of the Tennessee river today and delivered it at Metropolis. Arriving at 6 p. m. yesterday from Riverton, Ala., the Kentucky went to Brookport to unload, returning here today. She is receiving freight and leaves at 6 p. m. tomorrow for a return trip to Riverton.

colored excursion here from Metropolis last night. About 600 excursionists from Metropolis and Brookport came here last night on the ferryboat Robertson.

The Robert Hisea will arrive tomorrow afternoon from Nashville and leave at 6 p. m. for a return trip.

The J. H. Richardson is due back from Nashville Sunday. If the stage of water is sufficient she will make the trip, otherwise the Rob Dudley will enter the trade.

The river is gradually receding and rivermen are expected a low stage, which may tie up some of the larger boats. The large number of gasoline boats coming here will be benefited by a low stage.

AT WALLACE PARK

LABOR DAY CELEBRATION WILL BE HELD AGAIN.

Central Labor Union Selects Place for the Celebration at Night Session.

Wallace park was selected as the site for the 1910 Labor Day celebration last night by the committee having the arrangements in charge. It was decided that the park was the most convenient site for the celebration, while in the morning an industrial parade will be given in the business district. It is expected to make Labor Day a big success this year. The committee will meet next Sunday morning for the purpose of arranging the details of the celebration. Excursions will be arranged so that the laboring people within a wide radius of Paducah may join the local workmen in a proper observance of the day. The usual voting contest to elect a Goddess of Labor will be held.

His Compliment.
An English diplomat at a dinner in Lenox said of Mrs. Langtry:

"When she was at the summit of her beauty and her fame—when crowds followed her in Bond street and the Bow—she met, at a semi-royal dinner an African king. "Mrs. Langtry dazzling in her beauty, sat beside the king. She was in good spirits, and she did her very best to amuse and please him. And she must have succeeded, for, at the dinner's close, he heaved a deep sigh and said to her:

"Ah, madam, if heaven had only made you black and fat you would be irresistible."—Washington Star.

Haven't noticed Mr. Ballinger being endorsed by any state conventions.

The Independent ticket in Pennsylvania has adopted the "Keystone" emblem. The regular parties still content themselves with a keynote.

How about a certain kind of insurgency in Tennessee? Didn't the Patterson brand of regular Democracy get something handed to it yesterday?

Our exchange table is graced with the presence of the Kentucky reunion edition of the "Kentucky Elk", with cover design in the lodge colors, and containing much lodge news of unusual interest.

Ohio Republicans adopted a platform and sought a man to "redeem the state from Democratic misrule." Isn't that absurd, when you think a majority of the people voted for a Democratic governor because they were tired of a rotten "Republican machine"? The Democratic organization in Kentucky is seeking a man to "redeem the state from Republican misrule." Do you get the connection?

All the press associations took a long guess that Senator Crane went west to ask Ballinger to resign. Then the Chicago Tribune took another one that Senator Crane went to Chicago to find out for the president how Lorimer stands. Mr. Ballinger's fate did not await the intervention of a United States senator at this late day, and the president hasn't anything to do with Lorimer. The courts and the senate only are concerned with his case. We have one more guess.

THE IOWA PLATFORM.

For the benefit of those who believe reports that the insurgent platform of the Iowa state Republican convention administered a rebuff to President Taft, we quote from it: "They reaffirm their loyalty to the Republican national platform of 1908 and pledge themselves to do whatever they can to carry every part of it into full effect."

"They especially emphasize their long and well settled faith in the Republican doctrine of protection. Its soundness and wisdom are beyond controversy, and it ought to be accepted as the established policy of the nation."

"The last Republican national platform announced with clearness and precision the rules for its application to imports, and when so applied it safeguards equally the interests of labor and capital and promotes equally the welfare of the producer and the consumer. They do not recognize the revision of 1909 as a satisfactory fulfillment of the party promises."

"In order to bring the tariff law into a complete compliance with the rule of the platform it is necessary that the difference between the cost of producing dutiable commodities at home and abroad should be correctly known."

"Therefore they favor the creation

NEXT STAR ON THE FLAG

Nothing less than the dissolution of the nation will prevent the organization of the state of Alaska. In 1850, when California was admitted into the Union, she had not lines of railway, telegraph, trades, or business connecting her with the other states, and was thought to be only valuable for placer gold. Her agriculture and trade, her railroads and present grandeur, have all grown since her admission. Alaska is a greater country and richer in all its natural resources than California was in 1850. Alaska has more gold than California and Colorado; more copper than Montana and Arizona; more coal than Pennsylvania; combined, her output of gold and fish than all other American waters combined. Her output of gold and fish for last year amounted to nearly $32,000,000, and had increased from $15,000,000 in 1900. Her of an independent, non-partisan tariff commission, which shall be the instrumentality of congress to ascertain the difference between the cost of production here and in other countries and publish the facts so that not only congress but the people shall be advised of the results of its investigations. Until such a commission is authorized they approve the effort of the president to secure the desired information through a board of experts employed for that purpose.

"They profoundly believe that when the tariff is again revised its schedules should be considered separately, so that each subject can be dealt with upon its own merits, and thus secure fair and impartial action upon the part of congress."

"They endorse such efforts as President Taft and his advisers have made to fulfill the promises of the national platform and which have been in harmony with the declarations of this convention."

SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

The Louisville Times, which editorially urged Governor Willson to send troops into the Black Patch to suppress night riding, and which was one of the first to commend his prompt, decisive action in quelling the disturbances, until the military turned the prisoners and evidence over to the civil authorities, is getting ready for the next state campaign, as the following excerpt from an editorial of yesterday indicates:

"Except for one conviction, and that by a federal court, not one of the men who for two years substituted anarchy for law, in order to further their economic interests, received a prison sentence. The governor's mysteriously acquired information has remained in cold storage. The fullness of his righteous wrath waned when most it was expected to wax fat and kick."

"In Lyon county the prospect of the belated trial of a night rider case, set for hearing in Christian county, has led to a return of conditions fully as bad as any that existed in that part of the state in the closing months of 1907 and throughout the year 1908. A brief review of these conditions and of the steps taken by the governor to remedy them discloses the fact that the administration at Frankfort is continuing to meet with no better success in causing the law to be observed, if the observance of it runs counter to local prejudice."

"To begin with, there has not been a single conviction, trial or indictment of anybody in a federal court for night riding; so the Times is off as to the facts in the case. And if there had been, the fact would have reflected on the state courts and prosecuting officers, not on the governor. He has nothing to do with selecting juries, presenting evidence, prosecuting the offenders or directing the procedure of the trial. He only sent troops, when it became apparent that local civil authorities could not, or would not, cope with the situation, and in many instances sent the troops against the protest of the county officials, but with the hearty sanction of the Louisville Times."

In an editorial a column in length, we do not find one word of censure for the county civil authorities or the commonwealth's attorney or the court of the Third judicial district in which all the night rider outrages, that went unpunished, occurred. Does it not seem remarkable to the Times that night riding should be confined to the Third judicial district; that hundreds of men should ride scores of miles, take possession of three cities at three different times, burn immense warehouses, shoot into homes and whip Kentucky citizens, and not one of them be convicted? Does not the very fact that night riders shoot it necessary to waylay and shoot Milton Oliver and assassinate Axton Cooper, satisfy the Times' craving for the truth, that Governor Willson and his soldiers did acquire evidence, which would convict the night riders if it ever went before an unprejudiced jury?

And does not the fact, that when the militia is away from the Third judicial district, night riders feel free to threaten and murder state's witnesses, indicate a contempt for the peace officers of the Third judicial district and of the counties embraced in the district, rather than a contempt for the law as represented by the state military?

Kentucky has reason to be proud of her soldiers. Texas and Pennsylvania have rangers and mounted con-

total cash trade with the rest of the United States for 1909 amounted to more than $52,000,000, while that between China and the United States amounted to only $18,000,000. She is a better customer of the merchants of the United States than Hawaii, Porto Rico, or the woman, and child in Alaska with the United States, for 1909, amounted to $1,302,75, while that of every inhabitant in Hawaii amounted to only $277.65, Porto Rico to $48.51, and the Philippines to $2.30.

Alaska has a better climate and great agricultural capacity than Norway, Sweden, and Finland combined. Her rich and fertile valleys are capable of supporting a much larger population than that of the three countries named, without mentioning the population which will be supported by her mines and other natural resources.—Collier's.

stability, whose trade is preserving order, constantly patrolling disturbed districts; but Kentucky's citizen soldiers, suddenly called from their regular vocations to undertake a hazardous and delicate mission, were engaged in active service for months and not a single act in violation of the proprieties or of indiscretion can be proven against them, though county officials endeavored to provoke them to some overt deed that would afford an excuse for censuring them.

The conviction for night riding, of which The Times spoke, took place in this judicial district, following a raid of some misbegotten rascals from the Third judicial district, and it was the only outrage over here. This emphasizes all the more the fact that officials of the Third judicial district could have prevented outrages just as well, if they had been inspired by the same zeal for law enforcement.

Can't the Times say something about the failure of the courts over there to convict anyone? No?

We tremble to think what might have happened in Spain if Roosevelt had included Madrid in his European itinerary.

A person, who has never been approached with a bribe, would like to know just how Senator Gore refused $25,000 in such a manner that the offer was immediately raised to $50,000.

It is difficult to judge from Governor Hadley's declaration in his Kirkville speech that fifty per cent of the soil of Missouri has not been cultivated and that whole counties are without a single bathtub, whether he thinks dry farming or irrigation is most needed to improve the Bourbon counties.

Typhoid Epidemic in Frankfort.

The situation as to typhoid fever in and around Frankfort continues to be alarming and it is estimated that there are now about seventy-five cases in all, and several new cases are reported every day. It is said that some of the cases are simply malarial fever but there is no doubt that the number of real typhoid cases is alarming and every housekeeper should not neglect to take every precaution necessary to prevent the spread of the disease.—Frankfort News.

LIVE STOCK IS LOW IN SUPPLY

INDICATED BY REPORTS FROM PRIMARY MARKETS.

Comparisons of Figures for First Half of 1910 with Previous Years.

EXPORT TRADE FALLING OFF

Washington, Aug. 5.—Commercial movements of live stock and meat products for the first half of 1910, as reported to the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, to some extent reflect the shortage of the animal food supply in the country. While the June movements were in most cases heavier than for the earlier months, the record for the first half of the year, both in the domestic and foreign commerce, indicates a considerable shrinkage in the commercial supply of some of the prime necessities of life.

Live-stock receipts during June at seven primary interior markets, 3,039,780 head, for the first time since January showed a gain and exceeded even the June, 1909, receipts of 2,952,824 head. Of the total 651,679 head were cattle; 101,400 head, calves; 1,582,692 head, hogs; 683,688 head, sheep; and 20,321 head, horses and mules. The June receipts of hogs, while decidedly higher than in either of the three preceding months, still continued much below the average for like periods in earlier years, while the cattle figures exceed the corresponding 1909 and 1908 totals. The shortage in the commercial supply of live stock is best seen from a comparison of the half-yearly figures, which totaled 16,463,756 head in 1910, compared with 19,081,715 head in 1909 and 20,820,393 head in 1908. The loss of over two and one-half million head, as compared with 1905, is due almost entirely to the smaller number of hogs brought to market. Assuming that the average six-months' receipts for the last five years at the seven primary markets represent the normal commercial supply, the shortage in hog receipts thus far in 1910 is almost 25 per cent. However, the larger average weight of the animals reported for the present year offsets, to some extent, the loss in numbers. The distribution of this loss in hog receipts is far from uniform. Chicago, shows a loss of 31 per cent, as compared with the above average; Kansas City, a loss of 26 per cent; Omaha, a loss of 20 per cent, and St. Louis a loss of only 5 per cent. The curtailment in the commercial supply of cattle is less pronounced, the six months' receipts for the present year being about 6 per cent below the average half-yearly receipts for the preceding five year period. It should be stated, however, that the cattle figures for Omaha and St. Louis include the receipts of calves, inasmuch as the six months' receipts of calves for the present year at the five markets which report them separately were over 22 per cent larger than the average six months' receipts for preceding five year period. It follows that the receipts of cattle at the seven leading markets were really lower than stated above, and the losses, as compared with the above average, the receipts of sheep at the seven leading markets, 3,820,256 head, show a loss of over 11 per cent. It is noteworthy that the decline in the supply of sheep began after 1906, that of cattle after 1907, and that of hogs after 1908.

Live-stock receipts for June at the four principal Atlantic seaboard cities, 819,754 head, were larger than for any other month of the year, though falling short of the

AS TO HONDSMAN CARROLL.

Magistrate Says He Couldn't Refuse and Carroll Says It's Politics.

New York, Aug. 5.—Magistrate (critically, of Brooklyn, made this statement in regard to charges preferred against him by Commissioner of Accounts Fossick for the alleged improper acceptance of Daniel J. Carroll as a bondsman:

"I see that I am charged with accepting one Daniel Carroll as a bondsman for about 32 persons in the past year. Possibly that is so, and if so what crime have I committed?"

"Carroll, I have always had good reason to believe, is worth at least $50,000 in real estate and business property. As a magistrate I am bound to accept good and proper bail when offered. I never heard that Carroll was a professional bondsman. I have never heard of any one paying him money for his services, and I don't believe that such a charge can be substantiated."

"I certainly hope that there will be an investigation by the proper authorities of this charge. I also wish to add that if I should refuse to accept Carroll tomorrow as a bondsman he could apply to the supreme court and compel me to accept him if he showed conclusively that he was competent to execute the bond, and I could be charged with oppression in refusing to bail a prisoner."

Hondsman Carroll said: "I am making a hustling campaign to win the Democratic leadership in the Fourteenth assembly district at the coming primaries, and the other fellows are a bit sore. I have been expecting something of this kind because I had been informed that certain persons in the district have taken the trouble to write to Mayor Hays."

"Of course I never suspected that Commissioner Fossick was making an investigation into my hailing people who are in trouble. My bonds will be found to be all right. The whole trouble is one of jealousy and I court the fullest inquiry."

L. & N.'s New Unit Tr.

The L. & N. railroad company began the operation of trains over the new cut-off being built around this city and Lexington and connecting with the main line at Norton's trap Tuesday. Trains operated over the cut-off were run from the point where the cut-off leaves the old line at sand cut north of the city to the M. H. & E. junction. The track is in excellent condition and the trains had no trouble in making the road. Both passenger and freight trains passed over the cut-off during the day and the use of the cut-off for the first time gave satisfaction to officials of the road. This portion of the cut-off will be used from this time on and the old road from the junction to the sand pit is being torn up. Work is progressing slowly on the remainder of the cut-off and it will not be long before the cut-off will be in condition to be used its entire length. It is expected that the cut-off will be ready for use by December.—Madisonville Hustler.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

The dance that was to have been given tonight by boys of the younger society set at Wallace park pavilion has been called off.

A party given in honor of Miss Nell Shaw's house party guests, will make the round trip on the Dick Fowler tomorrow to Cairo.

Dance at Country Home.

The dance given last evening by Mrs. W. A. Herry at her country home, "The Cedars," was a most enjoyable affair, being given in honor of her attractive visitor, Miss Nell Holmes, of Walnut Hill, Ark. The lawn and spacious porch were prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns. Punch was served during the evening. Those present were: Misses Margaret Booker, Little Hock, Ark.; Mary Crenshaw, Hopkinsville, Ky.; Frances Campbell, Hopkinsville, Ky.; Anna Mae Cannon, Mayfield, Ky.; Marie Driskell, Ross Seymour, New York; Willie May Rascoe, Roaring Springs; Miss Johnson, Morganfield; Georgia May McGilghery, Nell Holmes, Arkansas; Norine Harrison, Clarksville, Tenn.; Louise Harrison, Clarksville, Tenn.; Currie Trueheart, Louisville; Dorothy Laughauff, Fred Paxton, Helen Hills, Lily Hobson, Lena Shelton, Laura Townes, Marguerite Carnegie, Mabel Shelton, Mary Wheeler, Helen Van Meter, Alma Kopf, Willie Willis, Sarah Corbett, Bernice Miller, Eloise Bradshaw, Martha Cope, Lucille Harth, Corinne Winstead, Katherine Quigley, Mary B. NATIONAL PARKS

BALLINGER PROPOSES TO VISIT THEM.

Official Inspection of Reservation of National Scenery of United States.

Washington, Aug. 5.—With a view to securing the information of experts and dependable facts for recommendation to congress regarding necessary improvements Secretary Ballinger, of the interior department, has arranged for an inspection of some of the national parks. The men chosen for R. B. Marshall, chief geographer of the geological survey. In connection with their visit to Glacier national park, a wonderful scenery reserved as a playground for the people at the recent session of congress, a question arose to the payment of their expenses. It seems that congress appropriated $15,000 for the "improvement of Glacier park by the construction and repair of roads and trails."

The question was whether Ucker and Marshall could use a part of that appropriation in securing a pack train, guides, camp equipment, etc., and also in paying railroad fare and Pullman and incidentals, not to exceed $6 a day from Devil's Lake, North Dakota, to Glacier park.

The problem was referred to comptroller of the Treasury Trace-well, whose decision on the expenditure of government funds is final. He answered that it is an administrative question. If, in carrying out the order of congress to "construct and repair roads and trails" it is necessary to first have an inspection, so that the work may be done to the best advantage, then the aforesaid expenses of the inspectors can be paid out of the $15,000 appropriation.

Desertor Jumps from Train.
New Orleans, Aug. 5.—Within 100 miles of his destination, Arthur F. Allen, an alleged deserter of the United States navy, escaped from Detective Edward Hillyard of New Orleans by leaping from the train on which officer and prisoner were making the trip from New Orleans to the navy yard at Norfolk, Va., according to information received at police headquarters here today.

Allen came to New Orleans as a member of the crew on the converted yacht Hornet. He said he wanted to see some active service in Nicaragua, but the federal officers charged that his period of enlistment called for further service in the United States navy.

NEARLY CHOKES ON CANDY.
Sweet Lodges in Boy's Throat—Doctor Saves Him.
New York, Aug. 5.—Howard Murphy, 2 years old, insisted on having his share of a bag of "lolly-pops," his brother brought to their home at 1765 Park avenue.

When he had received his "lolly-pop" Howard sat down on the floor and started what he thought would be a few minutes of supreme enjoyment, but his eagerness overcame his caution and to a moment the "lolly-pop" was lodged in his throat, with the stick fastened tightly against the roof of his mouth.

Howard was seized by his father and carried to a nearby drug store; then a call was sent to the Harlem hospital. When Dr. Fulton arrived he removed the obstruction that was choking the child. The youngster then refused further medical attention and went home ready for another attack on the sweets.

Commutes Captain's Sentence.
Washington, Aug. 5.—President Taft has commuted the sentence of a court-martial, that of Capt. Daniel W. Hand, first field artillery at San Francisco, dismissed from army without honor for drunkenness, violating a pledge of temperance and absence without leave.

Because of his previous excellent record and gallant conduct with the Fifteenth Minnesota volunteers in the war with Spain, the president commuted the sentence to reduce Capt. Hand to the bottom of the list of field artillery captains, where his name must remain for five years, and that he be confined for one year to the limits of the military reservation where his battery may serve.

CRUSADE AGAINST OUR ALICE.
Petitions From All Sections Condemn Her Cigarette Smoking.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Campaigns of several women's clubs in a few cities of the east, having for their object inducing Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, daughter of former President Roosevelt, to stop smoking cigarettes, have acquired a momentum that promises to sweep the whole nation.

The movement has struck Chicago. In this city it was crystallized in a circular letter sent out by Mary E. Balcomb, secretary of the Young People's Civil League, to 500 young people's organizations of Chicago, asking them to discuss the matter and to impress upon children that Mrs. Longworth's cigarette smoking habit should be regarded as an illustration of an evil to be avoided, rather than an example to be imitated.

From various other cities news has come of similar action having been taken by church organizations, the membership of which is composed of both sexes, and by clubs whose membership consists of women alone.

Within the next two weeks Mrs. Longworth will receive a deluge of petitions, telegrams, letters, circulars and other written and printed matter, beseeching her to cease smoking cigarettes. In addition deputations of women will travel from various parts of the country to Cincinnati, personally to place the matter before her in her own home.

SNOWS SUPPLIES IRRIGATION

INDIANS STILL MEASURE AGES
BY "SNOWS" AND "MOONS."

Census Takers Attribute Ripening of Crops to Fact That Sun Shines
During Certain Periods.

HOW FARMS RUN IN ALASKA

Washington, Aug. 5.—Farming by sub-irrigation and with the moisture supplied by melting ice is a novel agricultural method adopted in the interior of Alaska, according to the official report of Chief Special Agent McKenzie, who supervised the taking of the recent census in the Fourth district of that territory. The system is proving surprisingly successful. Many kinds of vegetables are being grown, thus rendering living conditions more tolerable in the far northern country. The future is most promising in this respect, believes Mr. McKenzie.

Not only enumerating the population, but gathering statistics on agricultural, mining and manufacturing conditions was the work of Mr. McKenzie. All the concrete facts will be given in figures which will be given out later. The census agent's remarks regarding the farming operations are most interesting.
He says that some homesteads have been taken up and that on them farming is conducted on a considerable scale.

Agriculture in infancy.
"Agriculture in this portion of Alaska is yet in its infancy," says
Mr. McKenzie, "but it has arrived at such proportions as to be considered almost wonderful in its results.
If all the returns are taken, they will show a very remarkable condition when it is considered that it is a condition existing within the arctic circle."

All the growth is attained between May 20 and September 15.
He attributes the fact that crops ripen not only to the fact that the sun shines from 16 to 24 hours per day, but to the correlative fact that the plants are supplied with moisture from beneath where the melting ice affords a regular and constant supply.

"Rain is practically unknown," he says, "but the necessary moisture comes from below." The thaw never extends deeper than three feet, and it does not farther than fifteen inches,
but the thaw is regular and the water supply sufficient to force a rapid growth.

Measure Ages By Snows.
Celery, lettuce, radishes, cabbages,
turnips and potatoes thrive, and Mr.
McKenzie declares they are so much better than in "the states" that the high price charged by the growers is quite justifiable. Raspberries grow to be as large around as 25-cent pieces, and blackberries and cranberries grow wild in great profusion. Experiments have been made with strawberries and grain, and while no great success is recorded,
the outlook is encouraging.

Chief Census Agent McKenzie
gives assurance that the Indians do measure time by the "snows" and
"moons" and distances by "sleeps." Indeed, he asserts that they have no other standards of time or of measurement, and in relating the fact he elates an instance which throws no little light on the difficulties of enumerating the red men.

"Only the very young children,
who have been educated in the government schools," he says, "have any knowledge of their ages or births, and the agents were instructed to use the age and birth months
as nearly as talk and observation would seem correct. Time with them is computed on suns and snows, and distances by sleeps. Marriages, separations, births and deaths are all based upon such calculations, and we were obliged to base our information in the same way."

He then gives this instance:
"An Indian buck claimed to have lived '200 snows.' After much talk and use of the sign language it was determined that he was about 80 years old. He was found to have been 20 snows old when he 'got his first woman,' to have kept her 'four snows, when she got away,' that he 'got more woman and kept her five snows and she died,' that he 'got no woman for 20 snows more,' and finally that he 'got young chicken
and kept her all time ever since,
now, on 25 or 30 snows.'"

That there were other difficulties in getting the facts regarding the aborigines is indicated by the following from the report:

"Many of the Indians know a sufficient number of English words to do business with a white man, but when it was determined that they were to be counted they had a faculty for closing their mouths and knowing nothing until an interpreter impressed upon them the fact that the agent came from the Great White Father at Washington."

Considerate.
At the time of King Edward's funeral a large crowd was assembled near Victoria Station as King George was driving by to meet the kaiser.
"Take off yer hat, Johnny," said a British workman to his small son,
"for this is the new king a-coming,
and I wouldn't like 'im to think I wasn't wanted."—Success Magazine.

Suffer from Female Ills

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. My pains all left me, I grew stronger, and within three months
I was a perfectly well woman."
"I want this letter made public to Widow Native of Louisville.

Paris, Aug. 4.—The identity of the American who committed suicide in the Seine July 29 and whose body was recovered Sunday, has been established. He was William Starin, a lawyer of Chicago, who had lived in Turin for the last two years. Mr.
Starin suffered from neurasthenia
and insomnia and often had threatened to commit suicide.

On Friday night last he let himself down from the fifth story to the street by dropping from balcony to balcony. He ran through the streets in his night clothes to the Grenelle bridge and jumped from it into the Seine.

The funeral was held today. Mrs.
Starin is a native of Louisville, Ky.

LIVESTOCK.

Paducah, Aug. 5.—The receipts of hogs were 384 head, for the four days this week 3,061. The market opened early and prices were steady all down the line. Selected heavyweights, 200 lbs. and up, selling at $8.40, mediums, 145 to 200 lbs.,
$8.70, light shippers and heavy pigs,
50 to 165 lbs., $8.95, light pigs, $7.95, roughs, $7.70 down. The pens were well cleaned and the market closed about steady.

The fresh receipts of cattle today
were 143 head, for the four days
this week 1,901 head. While the receipts of cattle have been light ever since Monday, the supply has, in all instances, been equal to the demand.
Today there was a fair attendance of local traders and butchers on the yards, but the demand was narrow and the market ruled quiet with but little change in values or conditions.

There was some little inquiry at steady prices for prime to choice light butcher cattle; others were not sought after and very dull sale;
grassy half fat cattle, especially dull and drab. There was practically no change in the feeder and stocker market, a good demand continues for the best grades; medium, plain and common grades slow sellers.
Hulls, steady, common, dull; rough cows, slow. No prime heavy cattle here, feeling just about steady.

Calves.
Receipts 215 head, for the four days 780. The market ruled dull at yesterday's closing figures, best veal 5 1/2 @ 7c, medium 5 1/2 @ 6 1/2c,
common 2 1/2 @ 5 1/2c.

Sheep and Lambs.
Receipts 3,817. The market was very slow in opening this morning, sellers holding out for more money,
and the big packers trying to buy them lower, but there were quite a few "outlets orders" which helped out the selling end, and the bulk of the best lambs sold at 6 1/2 @ 7c, varying in price as to quality and sort, seconds 5 1/2 @ 6 1/2c; culls

3 1/2 @ 4c. Fat sheep 3 1/2 @ 4c down, common sheep very dull. Good demand for prime to fancy stock ewes,
plain and common ewes slow sale.

St. Louis.—Cattle.—Receipts
2,300, including 800 Texans, market steady to the higher. Native beef steers, $5.50 @ 6.25; cows and heifers, $3.25 @ 5.50; Texas and Indian
steers, $4.00 @ 6.25; cows and heifers, $3.50 @ 5.25; calves in carload lots, $6.50 @ 7.75. Hogs—receipts dull; market steady. Pigs and lights, $5.00 @ 6.10; packers, $7.50
@ 8.00; butchers and best hogs,
$8.00 @ 8.75. Sheep.—Receipts
1,500, market steady. Native mountains, $3.50 @ 4.50; lambs, $5.75 @ 7.50.

Some fancy
prices were noted in the local tobacco market one hoghead of burley bringing $20. The Louisville Leaf Tobacco Exchange reported as follows: Burley 62, dark, 86, total, 143, original, 144; reves, 15, resolutions yesterday, 4 bulley, 16
dark.

The State House sold 12 dark at $5.50 to $12.25.

The Kentucky sold 8 burley at $11.25 to $15.25 and 20 dark at
$5.75 to $11.00.

The Ninth street sold 9 burley at $9.00 to $20 and 39 dark at $5.95
to $12.25.

The People's House sold nine
hogheads burley at $6.10 to $17.75.

The Farmers' House sold nineteen
hogheads burley at $7.50 to $19.50.

The Home House sold ten hogheads burley at $6.90 to $18.70.

VIRGINIA OF THE AIR

A Romance Of Flying

By HERBERT QUICK

Copyright, 1909, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

CHAPTER V.

THE FALL THAT FOLLOWED PAIDE.

SUDDENLY Theodore burst from the floor of the cloud like a meteorite and saw a long procession of white and violet lights speeding past and away into the distance, the arc lights of a town set into apparent flight by the speed of his headlong career before the wind. Far off in the glare of a locomotive firebox he could see a devilish black fireman, weirdly stooping.

The town fled away. The roar of the wind rose about him. He was whipped stungingly by the branches of a tall tree; then a lower one bowed him through its dense top. He held hold of a slim birch, and, as it bent like a fishing rod under his weight, he let go the sheets of his parachute, the wind spilled from the silken mesh, and he tumbled heavily into a mattress-like bed of brush, over an asphalted walk, and, eased down by the shrubbery, he rose unharmed, so far as he could feel, to find himself by a rustic seat near a dry fountain. On his left he could make out a long building three or four stories high.

A high wall running back from each end of this structure seemed to him to bound the garden, for a garden he guessed it to be. Back in some repulsive jungle he heard the throaty bellow of a great dog.

Following the wall, he found it integral with that of the house. It was blank and high and insurmountable. He reconnoitered the rear wall to a brick barn into which it was built. He returned to the long house and stole across to one side, where he found a door through the wall, tight shut and impenetrable.

Calling up his scattered courage, he went with some steadiness up to a long veranda. A shrill whistle sounding from the top of the porch instantly commanded his attention. Theodore saw a man on the roof just in the act of swinging himself down over the eave.

"Get under here, old sport!" said the voice, "and give a liberty loving classmate a leg down."

Theodore reached up and steadied a somewhat bony leg and was about to let his burden down when the liberty loving one collapsed in all his members and came down by the run.

Carson started forward to raise the demoralized fugitive to his feet. But he was already up and seemed to be bowing and kissing his hand to an imaginary audience.

"My celebrated Avernus act," said he, "Special gravitation expert to the crowned heads! But, hie! Let me greet thee! An ye be noble, salute my cheek; an ye be sloth, receive my contemptuous thanks! Hie, old sport!"

Carson stood mute, alone with a possible lunatic and a very probable dog in a walled garden into which he had dropped from the night sky.

"From your caput cometh a rattle like a muted cymbal," went on the strange personage, "and anon like a battery of telegraph sounders. Stay! Is it possible that it emanates from the clattering of your teeth? Califf, you are scared—or in an acute that would reduce a foundry rattle to matchwood! Art cold, fair youth?"

"A little," replied Carson. "I am lightly dressed."

"Then come, come away, tra-la-la, with me, to a realm of balmy air and breezes of Ceylon. To heel, and if thy heavy boot but escape the gravel to betray our flight thou dost, and all thy wad is gobbled by the privy coffer of the emporium. To heel!"

With a swift darting movement the stranger turned and, followed obediently by Carson, went across to a building which Theodore guessed to be a greenhouse. His guide opened the door and stood back with elaborate courtesy that Carson might precede him. Entering, Theodore found him self among beds of flowers which filled the house.

"It is too dark," said his guide, rejoining him, "to make the exchange of cards more than an empty and invisible formality. Yet I would fain know more of you than the bright and snappy technique of your tooth chattering."

"I don't understand," answered Carson. "I came here by accident."

"Quite so," interposed his interlocutor. "Let's sit down by the American Beauty bed—there. If we might strike a match, now. I estimate that half as lush logged derelicts go ashore here in a state, to coin a word, of ore-eyed woodiness. I may say that I came myself by accident and without meaning to do so—or otherwise, I must have a smoke!" Then came the scratch of the match, and Theodore scrutinized the face by the flare of the match as with nervous, unsteady movements the stranger lighted the weed.

He was a medium sized person, with deep set eyes flickering from their caverns with a blurred sharpness. His face was sallow and colorless, with hollows in the cheeks. His nose was irregularly notched in profile, like the stub of something else broken off his face.

"My name is Carson," said Theodore, "and I am from the south, from Alabama."

"Craighead is mine," rejoined the other. "I am from here and elsewhere. There are twenty places where I might vote were there any question under the sun worth voting on. I think I may closed standards of the place—from the Rat Mort—actually turn out, to coin an expression! Look it not open, glimpse of a depravity hitherto fabulous? And when I have been graduated from this emporium I shall return, pride in my port—meaning nothing whimsical—distance in mine eyes, and I shall sit down in the Rat Mort and behave myself for long, long periods of time, for ages.

Carson grew somnolent. Mr. Craighead sat upright, making occasional abscondatory gestures with his cigar band.

Morning came. Two or three men came past the greenhouse, went round it and walked away again, as if making some sort of search. They came back after a time and entered. One was a tall, athletic, ruddy complexioned, youngish man, who seemed to be the leader of the trio. They gazed at the sleeping Carson and Craighead as if taking stock dispassionately of returned strays in the form of dogs or horses.

"Well, Mr. Craighead," said the tall one in accents distinctly British, "I'm no end sorry to find you out of bounds again, sir!"

Instantly wide awake, Craighead assumed an attitude of jocular familiarity.

"It agonizes me to have given you a moment's pain, Dennis," said he, "but believe me I should have been howling like a banshee had I stayed longer in the storm center of Mr. Waddy's pneumatic slumbering."

From his evident irritation at the mention of his "pneumatic slumbering" Carson guessed that the shorter of Dennis' companions was Mr. Waddy. He was blocky and strong in build and bearded with gray excrescences that grew forward and upward from all points, as if eyebrows, whiskers and mustache had been trained through a knothole for a long time and then suddenly cropped off and left standing.

He was puffing and blowing. This labored breathing coupled with his appearance of having dressed hurriedly gave him the general effect of one who has leaped suddenly from bed and chased something at high speed. He had on a tunic over shirt and trousers. On one foot was an untied overshoe, on the other a Wellington boot.

"Mr. Craighead," said he, as if carefully choosing terms of seating rebuke, "I've seen all kinds, and you do better—the Dutch!"

"Thank you," said Mr. Craighead, bowing. "Pardon me, Dennis, have you not met my friend, Mr. Carson, from Alabama? A new arrival. A periodical, I believe. Mr. Carson, Mr. Dennis O'Grady. Mr. O'Grady is the official dispenser of dope."

"Tonic, Mr. Craighead, if I may correct you, sir," said Mr. O'Grady.

"Of course, Dennis," protested Craighead, "I meant tonic! And is this Mr. Carson's jag boss? I hope his slumbers are less sonorous than Mr. Waddy's, Mr. Carson."

"Attendant," suggested Mr. O'Grady softly. "Mr. Evans is the attendant of Mr. Wylie. No doubt an error on Mr.

Craighead's part, Mr. Wylie, but we understand perfectly that you are the Mr. Wylie who arrived very ill last night, sir, and who departed before we could give him the examination and the formal admission. Mr. Evans will attend upon you, Mr. Wylie, and we hope, sir, to have you feeling much better in a few days, sir!"

"You are greatly mistaken!" exclaimed Theodore. "I don't belong here at all!"

"Quite right, sir!" responded Mr. O'Grady heartily. "Quite right! I am glad that you are already able to see, sir, that you belong with Mr. Evans in room 34, sir."

"But I am not Mr. Wylie," interposed Carson.

"Pardon me," softly suggested Mr. O'Grady, "but I find you here, Mr. Wylie, where none but inmates can come."

"I dropped into this garden from an aeronaut," reiterated Theodore.

"And swallowed your parachute?" interposed O'Grady.

"No," cried Carson, producing it from under the bench. "Here it is."

"I have no knowledge of machinery," said O'Grady. "But the existence here of so common a contrivance does not at all prove the absence of Mr. Wylie, and Mr. Wylie is accounted for by no personality except your own, sir. The Slattery Institute loses no patients. You are Mr. Wylie or Mr. Wylie is lost; hence, sir, you are Mr. Wylie."

Mr. Evans ushered young Mr. Carson into room 34 as if conferring a great favor in thus naming him Wylie and arresting him instantly under the new cognomen.

"I am not Mr. Wylie," reiterated Carson. "I am Theodore Carson, as I said, and I—"

"This matter of names is so complicated," quavered Mr. Evans, pushing up his cuffs as if about to attempt some feat of physical prowess. "No man draws! my pay can be expected to work it out. I get awful small wages, Mr. Wylie. My duties are simple. You get your tonic and treatments regular 'an' keep 'em. A whole lot of gentlemen comes here under special names."

Mr. Craighead rapped and entered.

"I quite agree with the remarks of my querulous friend, Mr. Evans," said Mr. Craighead. "Your position, Mr. Carson, is an equivocal one. The question is, what's your field?"

"It is aeronautics," replied Theodore.

"I have decided the first effective aeronaut."

"Very interesting," returned Craighead. "I have made that a specialty. I know the defects of the present day aeroplanes, and I understand the failure of the gas supported aerostats, except as toys for us parasitic capitalists. But to the point in controversy. Are you the Fulton of the emporium or the Edison of the hot air? Mr. Evans' porcine tonality has expressed the only conclusion open to him—to accept the Wylie theory as a working hypothesis and to work it at the regular period. Dost follow me?"

"I suppose that this Wylie must turn up sooner or later," mused Theodore. "But why should I take treatment? What do they do to you?" persisted Theodore.

"They give you dope; they feed you for a few days on bran mash; they shoot you twice a day; they give you a little bottle to assuage what they call your thirst the first night or so, though why they call that a thirst which is only a cerebrospinal tendency entirely unconnected with irrigation of renal salt out. Let's to breakfast."

Breakfast. Here was something to be "understood of the people," Carson was famishing. And before he returned to his room he learned that he was an inmate of the Slattery Institute for Drunkards.

AUTOMOBILE STRUCK A BUGGY

And the Occupants of the Latter Were Thrown Out and Bruised.

New York, Aug. 5.—Peter Lang and his wife, Henrietta of 889 Washington street, went for a drive in Central park yesterday. They were going up the east drive at a good pace when they met an automobile. To avoid a rut the chauffeur steered so close to their buggy that in turning back again the hind wheels of the car hit those of the buggy. The horse shied, the buggy careened against a lamp post, and Mr. and Mrs. Lang were thrown out. The automobile went on, and so did the horse.

Mr. Lang thought that the number of the machine was 61438 N. Y. According to the police records, that number is held by Edward Hray of 460 North Main street, Port Chester. Mr. Lang and his wife went to the Presbyterian hospital, where their bruises were dressed. Their horse was found by a policeman entangled in the shrubbery of One Hundred and Fourth street. The buggy was almost uninjured.

In Silhouetteville.

"Oh, John, don't you wish we could sit here and spoon forever?"

"Yes, dearest. But let's go now. I think I hear the dinner bell!"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

MC'REARY PUTS JOHNSON IN HOLE

HE WAS NOT EXPECTED TO ANNOUNCE.

Third House Proposed to Name Candidate for Governor Easily.

HECKHAM HAS TO BE KEPT OUT

Louisville, Aug. 5.—The Post's Frankfort correspondent says: The declaration of former United States Senator James B. McCreary, of Madison county, that he will seek the nomination of the Democratic party for the office of governor, puts a new phase on the situation in the contest for this nomination, putting into the running the man who will be the leading contestant, probably,
against Congressman H. Johnson, of Nelson county.

The declaration of Senator Mc-Creary was a surprise to Mr. Johnson and his friends throughout the state. They have always maintained that the Madison man would not become a candidate, that is, an active one, but would always remain in a "receptive" mood, which they have figured would amount to nothing as against the active campaign of the Fourth district candidate.

McCreary in Earnest.

Responding, as he feels, to the call of thousands of Democrats throughout Kentucky, who are anxious to get behind a man free from factional alliances of the last few years within the Democratic party, Senator McCreary has written a friend here that he will go into the campaign with all the vim and vigor
he has shown in campaigns of the past, and that he will make a county and district campaign of it from now until the nominee is chosen next
year.

From time to time it has been rumored that every district in Kentucky would have a candidate for the governorship, and that the state convention would be a regular old-time affair, with the "favorite son"
to divide and split it into factions,
and allow the Shaekleford-Vreeland-Brown-Cutchen coterie of politicians, who dominated the last general assembly, to dictate not only the nomination for governor, but the ticket in its entirety.

Beckham-Brown Fight.

This was the plan before Senator McCreary entered the running. What it will be in the future days of the campaign is hard to determine.

With this plan in view an interesting angle of it has just been attempted to be carried out here in Franklin county, but the planners figured badly. Through the assistance of the state prison commissioners, Brown, McCutchen and Fogg, and under the leadership of Brown, former governor Beckham was to be kept off the delegation from either Franklin or Nelson counties, his old home, to the state convention, always figuring, of course, as they have, that there will be a state convention to select the party nominees.

To keep Beckham a "dead one" in politics, as Brown said to a leading Democrat here, he, Brown, wanted control of the Franklin county executive committee, which will have control of affairs in shaping up for the delegation to the state convention.

To accomplish this, Brown collaborated with Managing Editor
Graham Vreeland, of the Courier-
Journal, and they hit upon John H.
Stuart, an employee on Vreeland's local paper, as the successor to John D. Griffin, the present chairman of the Franklin county committee, and who is allied with the Beckham wing of the party in this county.

"How is your new village band getting along with its rehearsals?"
"We don't have rehearsals; we started right in giving band concerts," Judge.

PRESIDENT AND INSURGENTS TALK

PROPRIETOR OF KANSAS CITY
STAR AIDS HIS VIEWS.

Says Kansas and Iowa Have Killed
Committee—Declares Ballinger Is Not a Simpleton.

HE LAIDS COL. ROOSEVELT.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 4.—Triumphant insurgency of the Kansas brand stalked abroad in Beverly when Col. William R. Nelson, of Kansas City, wheeled into town in the wake of the Kansas-Iowa upset.

Col. Nelson is as large as Taft and a big man in his community. As editor and proprietor of the Kansas City Star he played a conspicuous part in making Taft president.

"I am not a simpleton," said he solemnly, before going out to the summer white house, "and was very much interested in his election."

"Do you think the president can be re-elected, colonel?" he was asked.
"Now," replied Nelson, putting a broad grin into play, "don't ask me foolish questions."

"The result in Kansas," said he,
"Oh, my heart's not broken. Iowa?
I'm bearing up well under it."

"What does it all mean?" the colonel was asked.

"Simply that the Republican party has not kept its pledges, particularly with regard to the tariff. You just watch Kansas and you will see what the rest of the country will do."

"The fact is that there has never been a time when the Democrats nominated a man who ought to be elected that he was not elected, as you will see in the case of Tilden and Cleveland. The Republicans imagine that the war is still on and they are standing on the past glory of the party."

"How far did Secretary Ballinger influence the result in Kansas?" was asked of the fighting editor.

"I don't think he influenced it at all," was the reply. "And as to the matter of getting rid of him now, if I was Taft and held on to Ballinger
so long, I think I would keep him to the end. Ballinger is only a simple-ton."

Kansas Is O. K.

"There's nothing the matter with Kansas," continued Colonel Nelson, as he waited for the word that the president would see him. "But there is this point to be borne in mind with regard to Kansas. A great many of the people there are either those who made the state or their sons, and the traditions are held fresh in mind, as against the older communities, where several generations have passed and the good old traditions have become obsolete."

The house of representatives, Col.
Nelson believed, will be anti-Cannon and opposed to all that Cannon represents.

As a parting shot before starting out for his social call, the colonel took a flyer into the future. Presidential possibilities were mentioned,
and he was asked if he would support Judson Harmon.

"Not against Theodore Roosevelt,"
he replied quickly. "But do you think he can come back?"

"Come back?" drawled Nelson.
"Huh! Why, he'd sweep the country.
But I don't think he will run again
unless he has to."

"He's been stirring things up in Pennsylvania."

"Yes," replied Nelson, "and you will notice that he went to the coal mines instead of the National City bank, and to Father Curran instead of J. Pierpont Morgan."

"Going to talk politics with the president?" was asked as he got into his motor car.

"Not if I can help it," he said,
but evidently he could not help it, for

with a hearty slap on the shoulder
the president received "Old Bill" Nelson on the front porch, backed him into a corner, and they talked politics for an hour with a whole lot of laughter thrown in. What they discussed was never given out for publication, and Colonel Nelson motored back to his summer home at Magna-lla without returning to Beverly.

Supreme Court Justice White and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and George Peabody Westmore were dinner guests at the Burgess Point cottage, and at about 9 o'clock they, together with the president, Mrs. Taft, Secretary Norton and Captain Butt, boarded the Mayflower for the sail across the bay to Princeton early tomorrow morning, where the president will dedicate the Pilgrim monument and review the fleet. The president will return to Beverly tomorrow evening.

Almost immediately the Mayflower will sail for Boston, where on Saturday morning she will take aboard President Montt, of Chile, and bring him to Beverly, where the president will entertain him at luncheon. Secretary Knox is coming to Beverly to participate in this function.

Captain Butt and Lieutenant Rowe cliff, of the Mayflower, have been assigned as aides to escort President Montt from Boston to Beverly.

President L. E. Johnson, of the Norfolk and Western railroad, called on the president. Ambassador Bryce of Great Britain, and Mrs. Bryce were also guests at Burgess Point.
The ambassador announced this afternoon that early in September he would start on a tour around the coast to South America, stopping at Panama to inspect the work on the canal.

AFTER RECRUITS

SERGEANTS WILL MAKE TRIPS
OVER THEIR DISTRICT.

Sergeant Kresky Will Go to Missouri First—Expect to Make a Big Showing.

Orders have been received at the local army recruiting station for a canvass of parts of Kentucky, Illinois, Missouri and Tennessee for new soldiers for the United States army.

Sergeant Joseph Kresky, who made several trips last year, will leave August 16 for East Prairie, Mo., which will be the first town
he will visit. His second trip will be to Sikeston, Mo., on August 22
and at Marion, Ill., on a later date.
Sergeant C. A. Blake is preparing an itinerary for Sergeant Kresky that will keep him absent from the local station until the first of the year.

These trips are taken in order that applicants, who are unable to come to Paducah, may have a chance to enlist. A large territory is covered and some fine material can be found in this way only. From now on the number of recruits is expected to reach an unprecedented figure for the local office. The local station holds a record of taking in large numbers and has received much praise for its work.

SENATOR GORE

leged offer of a bribe of $25,000 in connection with the $20,000,000 Indian land deal, Senator Gore told the committee the time and place at which the alleged bribe was offered.

Senator Gore said Congressman C.
B. Creager, representative of the Third Oklahoma district, also had been approached in connection with the bribery offer.

"Mr. Creager told me so," said Mr.
Gore.
"He also told me to go ahead and make these charges and he would stand by me, giving his testimony."

The bribe was offered at Washington the senator testified, on May 6, by Mr. Hammond, former national Republican committeeman from Oklahoma.

Senator Gore declared that when he frowned upon the bribery proffer Hammond said the amount might be raised to $50,000.

"Hammond also told me that Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas, and Congressman B. S. McGuire, of Oklahoma, were interested in the McMurray contracts," testified Senator Gore. "And while I am about it, I might as well tell," he said, "that an official higher up in the government was also interested in the deal."

Sherman Is Named.

Vice President Sherman was then named by Senator Gore as the man quoted higher up in connection with the McMurray contracts.

"When he named persons higher up I held up my hands in astonishment and said: 'Is it possible that a person so high in the United States government could lay himself open to such an imputation?'"

"Well," replied Hammond, "this is lots of money, you see."

The bribery offered Senator Gore followed his opposition to the approval by congress of what are known as the McMurray contracts, which affected the Cheyenne and the Chelekaw tribes of Indians.

Big Attorneys Fee.

By these contracts, he said, J. F.
McMurray, an attorney, and associates, were to receive 10 per cent of the profits on the sale of 150,000 acres of coal and asphalt lands belonging to the Indians. As a New York syndicate stood ready to pay $20,000,000 for the lands, the 10 per cent to the McMurray interests for "attorneys' fees" would realize $5, 000,000, said the senator.

Senator Gore appeared before the special investigating committee,
which convened here, as a direct result of charges made by him in the United States senate on June 21.
When called upon by the chairman of the committee, Charles H. Burke, of South Dakota, to testify, Senator
Gore told his story.

Offer Was Raised.

"When I scoffed at the offer of a bribe even, it was raised to $50,000
as Hammond suggested it might be,"
testified Senator Gore, "my visitor (Hammond) in my office at Washington, went on to say that other members of congress were interested in the contracts. He said Senator Curtis was interested and Congressman McGuire, of Oklahoma, was interested, and then he mentioned the name of a man higher up in the government."

"I was appalled when I heard that name," said the senator.

"What was the name of that man higher up?" asked Chairman Burke.

"I had introduced in the senate a

"Well," replied Senator Gore, "I don't like to say. Indeed, I could not repeat it without a great deal of reluctance."

"Now, Senator Gore," Mr. Burke explained, "this committee has come here to get all the facts and we want you to tell us all you know."

"Well, as that is true," responded Mr. Gore, "I will tell all I know. The man mentioned as higher up and interested in the McMurray contracts
was Vice President Sherman."

No further questions were asked concerning the mention of Vice President Sherman.

In cross-examination by C. B.
Ames, counsel for Mr. McMurray, Mr.
Gore testified as to the relations existing between himself and Hammond.

Roosevelt Refused.

"In 1905," said Senator Gore, "President Roosevelt refused to give his approval to certain contracts which McMurray had secured with the Indians as tribes. Under the law the contracts made with the tribes of Indians were not valid until approved by the president. In the same year McMurray procured contracts Individually with about 10,000 of the Indians whereby the Indians were to give 10 per cent of the gross results in the sale of their lands."

"McMurray came to my office in Washington and wanted me to support his contracts. I told him I would not do so, but on the other hand, I thought it would be absurd for the Indians to pay that vast sum of money
for services which the government was in duty bound to perform."

Interests Were Active.

The McMurray interests and others went to President Roosevelt and I went to President Roosevelt, urging him not to approve of the contracts. It was notable how active were the Mc-Murray interests. When I called on the secretary of the interior, Ballinger, to protest against this, I was told not to talk so loud, as ex-Senator Lodge, of Kansas, was present and he was interested in the contracts.

"I had introduced in the senate a
